Summary Report

On 24th of Jan 2020 our society Equal opportunity cell of Sri Venkateswara college, University of Delhi conducted an annual trip and it was organized under the care of the society convener Dr. Kanwar Singh, President Ramjatan Yadav and along with some other teachers.

We organize trips once in a year to give a day of happiness to the PWD students with the pronounced participation of volunteers of Equal Opportunity Cell (EOC), which also brings PWD students and volunteers close to each other. For working and supporting each other, having a bond of friendship between PWD students and volunteers is very necessary.

There were a total of 35 people including PWD students, volunteers and teachers. The venue was Madhavgarh farm Aravalli, that is surrounded by magnificent view of the Aravalli range with the cleanest air and healthy environment which indeed rejuvenated every person for a while, from the hustle bustle and pollution of Delhi and other cities. We left our college by 08:30 AM sharp after taking attendance and reached there by 10:30 AM. We saw various activities and entertainment showcasing the culture and heritage of Haryana which kept our day occupied, since knowing the cultural heritage of our country's states is an amazing experience. Everyone had enjoyed all the activities without any hitch like camel ride, tractor ride, mud bath, head massage, bullock cart ride, pottery making, dairy farming, Rajasthani culture performance, pottery painting, tube well bath, live DJ etc. There we also enjoyed adventure activities like zip line, highest commando net, rock climbing, rappelling wall, etc. The food was hygienic and was all organic. There were welcome drinks, seasonal salad, breakfast, Radha rasoi, lunch, desserts, afternoon snacks. In the evening we all gathered on live DJ dancing. At the end of the day there was a small cultural dance performance show, which left everyone with big smiles.

After having a lot of fun we summed-up our great amusement day by reaching our college by 5:30 PM and lastly we took attendance to ensure the presence of all the students and dispersed on time securely towards our respective home. Each volunteer will look forward towards more such trips.
