PROOFS

IPL Auction as expected turned out to be a great success. It was a five hour long event with 295+ participants and extremely enthusiastic participation.

The entire event despite being virtual was smooth and uninterrupted.

The first round was a screening round where a quiz was conducted, out of which the top sixteen teams made it to the second round. The second round, Silent Auction gave the participants an opportunity to bid the most unique and highest bid in order to get themselves an IPL team with which they got two retained players. Since, there are only eight IPL teams, out of the sixteen teams only eight could qualify for the final round.

The final round, Buyer-Bid Auction where the teams had to buy nine players in order to complete the team. There were certain criteria for the teams to keep in mind, for example they could have four foreign players at the most, two batsmen at least, etc.

The IPL teams went on bidding for the desired players and completed their team. However, one team could not complete the team on time and therefore was disqualified.

The results were computed on the basis of the rating of the players on their past year performances.

The overall event was extremely fun and engrossing.
