PROOFS

Mockstock, a game that uncovers the strategies of a budding entrepreneur was held under the much awaited flagship event Consortium'21

The game started with an active participation by over 250+ teams. As soon as the Scam 1992's background score was played, the participants' enthusiasm reached at its peak with some really amazing comments flooding the zoom chat box. Much to our surprise, it was the participants who weren't able to wait for the game to start and were repeatedly crashing into the chat box with comments like 'C'mon, start it guys, we can't wait anymore for the fun to unfold'.

The prelims round started with the first few responses coming in just a span of two minutes. The round 1 which was called the Mockstock began shortly after and witnessed a tough competition among the teams. The round 2 which consisted of sub rounds of roulette, cricket match betting went smoothly too.

The round 2 also witnessed a surge of doubts by the participants as they didn't want to miss out on a single chance to win the game and hence wanted to grasp every element of the same.

The teams put their bids on India or Pakistan in the match betting round based on a still of a match provided to them and eagerly waited for the results. There was a participant who had high chances of winning the match betting round, however, he didn't specify whether the amount that he bet on was even or odd and hence didn't qualify for the next round.

The game ended with exemplary portfolios by the shortlisted participants. Overall, the mock stock was a great success.
