Round 1: This was a proper quiz round in the form of a crossword where participants had to go through a set of questions ranging from current brand related affairs, audio questions, guess the brand logos, identify the brand through a set of emojis, guess the gibberish, etc. Those who scored the highest the fastest went ahead.

Round 2: This was a fun dare round where the 15 people who came through were given a dare wherein they had to make a pitch for a product that was defective/lacks value/of no use, for example- sell a single sock full of holes, a dilapidated plastic bottle, etc. The most effective and worthy pitch went ahead.

Round 3: This was the final round, there was a crisscross of brands. Contestants were given a brand that was into a particular industry and then they had to market something totally out of their forte!
