NOTIFICATION

This is for the information of all the concerned that Dr Nirmal Kumar, Associate Professor in the Department of History, has been appointed as a Public Information Officer (PIO) with immediate effect, till further orders, under Section 5(1) of the Central Act of the RTI, to provide public with access of necessary information within the stipulate period. The PIO generally have two key responsibilities:-

1. Receiving/facilitating requests: Requests are either sent directly to the PIO (or under the Central Act they can also be given to an Assistant PIO (APIO) who forwards it to the PIO). They can be given by hand, mailed by post or even emailed. The Central Act and most State Acts place a responsibility on the PIO to assist applicants to frame their request if they have difficulty writing up the request appropriately or if they are illiterate. The PIO (and APIO) is also responsible for issuing a receipt for the application.
2. Responding to requests: The PIO is responsible for processing the request. Generally, this means that they will first need to find all the information requested. This may require them to ask other officers within the organisation to help to find information. They might even need to ask other departments to assist. The PIO will then need to look at the information collected and decide, taking into account the exemptions in the law, whether any or all of the information needs to be withheld from release. The PIO will then notify the applicant of their decision, within set time limits.

It is essential that the PIO understands the operation of the RTI law in detail. It is absolutely essential that the PIO is trained on the law as a matter of priority. He will be the first person responsible for applying the Act to applications, so it is important that he is confident in interpreting and applying the various provisions of the law.

In view of the above, Dr Nirmal Kumar is hereby requested to ensure necessary compliances with the provisions of the act in a time bound manner.

To,

Dr Nirmal Kumar
