Report

Adhibhuta, the Life Sciences Society of Sri Venkateswara College, hosted its first "INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE," on 24th and 25th February 2025. The two-day event was a remarkable success, witnessing enthusiastic participation from students across various institutions and fostering meaningful academic and creative engagement.

The first day featured a conference centred around the theme, "From Ayurveda to Artificial Intelligence: Reimagining Cancer Therapeutics." The conference aimed to explore the evolution of cancer treatment strategies, bridging traditional medicinal systems with modern technological advancements. Scholars and students presented research papers, contributing diverse perspectives and encouraging interdisciplinary dialogue. The session created an intellectually stimulating environment, allowing participants to critically examine innovative approaches in cancer therapeutics.

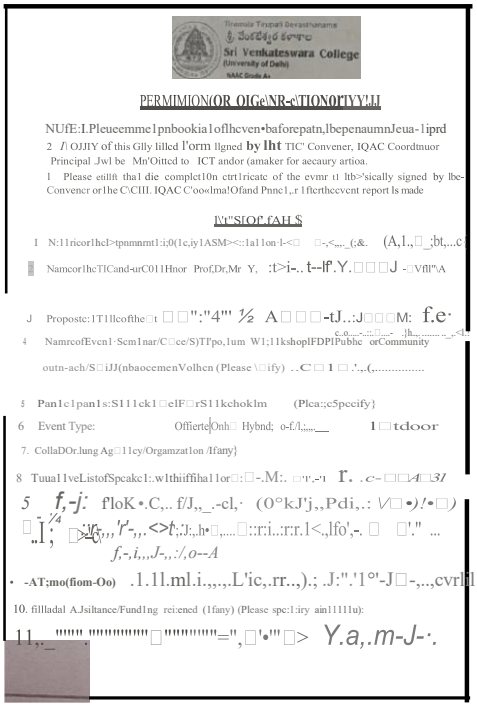

The second day began with international speakers, enabling broader participation and global academic interaction. The session provided valuable insights and enriched the discourse initiated on the first day. This event fostered teamwork, scientific curiosity, and healthy competition among participants.

A significant highlight of the International Conference was the inauguration and release of the society's annual magazine, "Quintessence", by Prof. Alok Chandra Bharti and our Principal. Their presence added immense value to the occasion and inspired the organising team.

Overall, the International Conference successfully blended academic rigour with creativity and collaboration, making it a memorable experience for all attendees.

Feedback Form Analysis

A total of 60 responses were received through the feedback form for the conference. The majority of respondents (96.8%) were undergraduate students, indicating strong participation from the student community.

When asked whether the conference met their expectations, 54.8% responded “Mostly” and 38.7% responded “Yes, Completely,” while 6.5% selected “Somewhat.” This indicates that the event was largely successful in meeting participant expectations.

Participants rated the overall organization of the conference with an average score of 4.10 out of 5, reflecting a positive response to the planning and execution of the event.

Regarding the relevance and informativeness of the keynote sessions, the majority of respondents rated them highly, with 48.4% giving a rating of 5 and 38.7% giving a rating of 4, indicating that the sessions were considered informative and valuable by most attendees.

In the suggestions section, most participants did not provide major criticisms and expressed satisfaction with the event. A few suggestions included providing prior information about the topics of discussion and arranging conference kits or identification materials for participants.

Overall, the feedback indicates that the conference was well-received, informative, and effectively organized, with minor suggestions for logistical improvements in future editions.
