REPORT-

EVENT SUMMARY

INTROSPECT'25, the much-awaited annual department fest, was celebrated with great enthusiasm and excitement. The fest began with an inaugural session graced by esteemed speakers—Prof. Soumendra M. Patnaik and Dr. Itisha Nagar—who shared thought-provoking insights on the theme "Understanding Self-Respect, Representation, and Social Justice among the Adivasis and Gendered Spaces in India."

Following the inaugural session, the Paper Presentation Competition showcased the intellectual rigor of participants who presented their well-researched papers with confidence before a panel of judges. This segment was held in collaboration with Indian Cultural Portal, under the Ministry of Culture, which also generously sponsored certificates and goodies for the winners as well as participants.

Day two began with the Policy Hackathon, where participants demonstrated excellent analytical skills, leading to an engaging and insightful session. This was followed by a fun and energetic Treasure Hunt competition across the college campus, adding a vibrant touch to the fest. Delicious lunch was provided on the second day to participants, faculties and students. In the Closing Ceremony, the winning entries of the movie-making competition 'CINEMARGINS' were screened, offering powerful narratives and creative storytelling. An additional online Photo Essay Competition also ran successfully, showcasing visual expressions on the fest's themes, on online mode.

The event concluded with heartfelt speeches from the President and Vice-President of the department, followed by a formal Vote of Thanks, marking the end of a truly enriching and memorable INTROSPECT'25.
